CONSTITUTIONAL SYSTEMS OF THE WORLD SERIES

Series General Editors: Peter Leyland, Andrew Harding, Benjamin L Berger,
Rosalind Dixon and Heinz Klug

This series seeks to provide scholars and students with accessible introductions to the constitutional systems of the world, supplying both a road map for the novice and, at the same time, a deeper understanding of the key historical, political, and legal events which have shaped the constitutional landscape of each country. Each book in this series deals with a single country, and each author is an expert in their field. Ideal resources for comparative constitutional law scholars.

“ PRAISE FOR THE SERIES

“This superb series provides sophisticated and up-to-date introductions to the major constitutional systems of the world, accurately and clearly describing not only the current constitutional rules and structures, but also...setting them in their historical and cultural context...There is no other series of guides quite like it, and several of the volumes now form the core of the course in comparative constitutional law at the University of Pennsylvania, where they have been warmly embraced by the students”

Professor William B Ewald,
University of Pennsylvania

“The volumes are compact...reasonably priced, and doubtless ideal for undergraduate and introductory law school courses on comparative constitutional law”

William E Butler,
Journal of Comparative Law

“We are promised contextual analyses, situating constitutions in their national history and explaining their underlying principles. The idea is at once admirable and innovative: it is difficult to think of any other recent series with the same ambition”

Andrew McDonald,
The Law & Politics Book Review

“I just wanted to congratulate you on your series...I have bought a couple of volumes (the one on Germany is really good given the limited space) and now I was impressed by the volume on Thailand. I think that particularly by including countries which normally don't get attention, you do a great service to a more modern comparative constitutionalism. I hope that this collection will grow!”

Dr Jörg Menzel, University of Bonn
