WELCOME TO THE 2019/20 IRISH LAW AND TAX CATALOGUE.

We began 2019 with the publication of a group of titles that hint at the range of practice areas we are now covering. Farrell, Residential Tenancies; O’Connor, National Security Law and the second edition of Twomey on Partnership (edited by Maedhbh Clancy) have set the tone for what promises to be another busy year for our law list.

We are publishing in a wider than ever range of areas and a greater variety of formats in response to both changes in the law and our customers’ needs. New titles due to publish this year include O’Doherty, Internet Law; Mair, Cahill & Reilly, International Commercial Arbitration and Smyth and Breen, Law of Charities. We are also delighted to be publishing a new book for practitioners in Northern Ireland which deals with land law in the jurisdiction. Northern Irish Land Law will be written by Dr Heather Conway and is due shortly before Christmas.

In addition, we are publishing new editions of the following well established and highly regarded titles: Wylie and Woods, Irish Conveyancing Law; Andrews, Woods on Liquor Licensing Law; Johnston and Beausang, Banking and Security Law in Ireland and McGowan-Smyth et al, Irish Companies Secretary’s Handbook. Most of these books will also be made available on BPrO (www.bloomsburyprofessionalonline).

On January 1st of this year, we were proud to add Murdoch and Hunt’s Encyclopedia of Irish Law to BPrO and it is now available exclusively from Bloomsbury Professional. This really is the gold standard in Irish legal reference works so please do contact us and take a trial. Further information on this peerless resource, and on our other products, can be found here: www.bloomsburyprofessionalireland.com

This summer we are delighted to be publishing our eagerly-awaited new commentary on CGT, Irish Capital Gains Tax 2019. This book has been written by Deloitte’s Tom Maguire who took over as the author of Irish Income Tax (still known to many of you as “Judge”) in 2016. This book will make a fine addition to any tax practitioner’s library as well as to BPrO’s Irish Tax service.

We now have a range of tax products that are available only in online format. They include: Tax Acts, VAT Acts, Capital Acquisitions Tax Guide, Capital Gains Tax Guide and the Employer’s PAYE/PRSI Guide. This year we have enhanced these products with the addition of features like the Further Reading Section (VAT Acts) and thousands more internal links (over 18,000 additional links in Tax Acts alone!).

Please don’t hesitate to contact me, or any of the Bloomsbury Professional team in our Dublin office, if you would like more information on any of our titles. We would particularly like to hear from you if you have feedback or suggestions about how we can better meet your information needs.

Dear colleague

This year we have created separate catalogues for each of our four main businesses: Law; Tax and Accounting; Ireland and Scotland.

Within each you will find plenty of well-established and industry-leading titles as well as many new and exciting publications that we are delighted to bring to the market.

Unlike some of our competitors, our titles are written by practitioners: people dealing with clients every day and applying the latest regulation to resolve real issues.

In today’s uncertain climate it is important that the advice you give to your own clients is clear and practical: our titles help you to achieve that goal.

2019 sees us continue to develop our online services across the portfolio and if you have not already taken a look or trialled our online services I would urge you to do so. All four businesses have their own bespoke online services which can be scaled up from one to 1,000+ users.

Our publishing programme is constantly evolving and what you see within these pages is a snapshot of what is available in Spring 2019. To ensure you receive the very latest information on our titles and their availability you can sign up to a number of social media services via our website at www.bloomsburyprofessional.com/ie/.

I hope you enjoy perusing the catalogue.

WELCOME TO THE BLOOMSBURY PROFESSIONAL ONLINE SECTION OF THE 2019 CATALOGUE

Someone asked me the other day what I thought the most important trend in publishing had been over the last few years. So far as online is concerned, it was an easy question to answer. Undoubtedly the most notable trend over the last few years has been that more and more users are searching for and reading professional information on their smartphones.

Let me say from the outset that, as someone who was born in the middle of the last century, I still tend to think of the telephone, mobile or otherwise, as a device for making and receiving phone calls. In that, as in so many other respects, I am completely wrong, of course. A modern smartphone is as powerful as a desktop computer and, in this age of ultra high res screens, may even provide a better reading experience, even for these tired old eyes. I can still hear myself pontificating to some poor unfortunate a few years ago that I would never read a book on a mobile phone, the very idea was ridiculous. But here we are a few years later, and now my phone is my primary platform for reading, news, YouTube, LinkedIn and so on.

So, for readers who have yet to try Bloomsbury Professional’s online services on their mobile, I commend it to your attention. The mobile site is at the same location as the desktop version (www.bloomsburyprofessionalonline.com) and your current username and password will work there too. Obviously, on a palm-sized device we have to change the user interface a bit so you may find it somewhat unfamiliar at first, but the search box is still there at the top right of the screen and you should find the search speed whether on wi-fi or a decent mobile signal just as fast as the desktop site.

I suppose a perfectly valid question would be why would anyone want to read professional information on their phone? Many of us spend the greater part of the day at desks looking at computer screens which deliver some kind of information, verbal or numeric, to our aching eyes and minds. Why continue to read that stuff when you’re on the train, or in the bath, or out and about at any of those places where you might use your phone? I will duck answering the question directly but refer instead to a testimonial video that Colin Corrigan of Corrigan & Co made for our users in ICAEW regulated firms. Colin makes the point in the film that since the Bloomsbury Professional service had been made available to his firm, there had been a general rise in interest and learning across his users as they became more adept at finding answers for themselves. That was an extremely gratifying thing to hear. Some might say that one of the signs of a good reference work is the extent to which it catches your eye with something interesting unrelated to your original query. Whether it’s the copyright status of a certain kind of popular plastic shoe or whether or not it is possible to reclaim input tax on a wig (clue: search for “wild man”) those idle moments, waiting for a bus, or a friend, or just a break in the weather, may be enjoyably and divertingly spent on your mobile, reading the expert guidance on a myriad of technical subjects from Bloomsbury Professional’s unrivalled team of authors.

INCOME TAX

Irish Income Tax 2019 NEW EDITION
Tom Maguire
“The bible of Irish income tax ...” Irish Independent, 28 January 2018. Indispensable in practice, it will help you apply the relevant legislation with ease and precision and is updated to Finance Act 2018. It endeavours to provide a complete analysis of the principles and practice of income tax in Ireland. The system and rules contained in the Tax Acts are complex and often cause difficulty of interpretation, even for those very familiar with them. With this in mind they have been laid out clearly as possible, using straightforward language. It provides solutions to the more difficult and complex issues through explanation of technical points and placing the points in the context of a scenario or narrative.

Tom Maguire is a Tax Partner in Deloitte and leads its tax policy and technical services team.

Companies Act 2014
Lyndon Mac Cann and Thomas B. Courtney
Contains the Companies Act 2014 together with related legislation. The legislation is fully consolidated with inclusive commentary on each section.
Companies Act 2014 represents the most significant reform in Irish corporate law in two generations, comprising 25 Parts, 1,448 sections and 17 Schedules. The Act repeals in full some 32 enactments (17 statutes and 15 statutory instruments), restating much of that law into a group structure as well as amending other provisions, and codifying judicial developments in certain areas.
The 2014 Act represents the modern statement of the law applicable to the formation of companies, administration and management to their winding-up and dissolution, incorporating the rights and duties of their officers, members and creditors.
Lyndon Mac Cann BA(Mod), M Litt, SC is one of Ireland’s leading company law barristers and Dr Thomas B. Courtney BA, LLB, LLD is Head of the Company Compliance and Governance Practice and a Partner in the Corporate Group of Arthur Cox.

Charities
Law of Charities in Ireland
Oonagh Breen and Philip Smith
As well as fully outlining the legislation, including detailed coverage of the Charities Act 2009, this handbook considers the life cycle of a charity in Ireland: from its creation and registration to its governance and reporting obligations right through to its relations with other charities, at home or abroad, and the demise or dissolution of a charity. Examining the role of the charity trustee in both corporate and unincorporated charities, it details the key relationships with relevant statutory agencies from the Charities Regulator through to Revenue and the Companies Registration Office. Setting out for the first time the practical issues facing charities operating in Ireland, this handbook is vital for any person concerned with the regulation of charities in this jurisdiction.
Dr Oonagh Breen is a lecturer at University College Dublin. Philip Smith is a Partner in Arthur Cox Solicitors and is an expert in pensions and charity law.

Irish Company Secretary’s Handbook

NEW EDITION

Second Edition

Jacqueline McGowan-Smyth, Eleanor Daly and James Heary

Examines the company secretarial requirements contained in the Companies Acts and relevant EU regulations. It includes useful chapters on all areas of company secretarial practice, including annual returns, directors’ and auditors’ responsibilities as well as statutory disclosure requirements. It gives a clear explanation of the many day-to-day functions of a company secretary along with a large number of up-to-date precedents, practical checklists, step-by-step instructions and best practice guidelines.

It also covers developments that have affected company secretarial practice and procedure, such as from the Companies Act 2014. It is accompanied by online access to all precedents that appear in the book.

Jacqueline McGowan-Smyth is a former Director of the Company Compliance and Governance Group at Arthur Cox Solicitors. Eleanor Daly is General Counsel with Fexco, and James Heary is Manager of the Company Compliance and Governance Group at Arthur Cox Solicitors.

Twomey on Partnership

NEW EDITION

Second Edition

Michael Twomey

Editor: Maedhbh Clancy

Includes practitioner-focused chapters on disputes between partners, litigation by and against partnerships and a commentary on each of the clauses of a typical partnership agreement. Few areas of law are as similar throughout the common law world as partnership law. This important book analyses not only Irish, English and Scottish partnership cases, but also the rich vein of partnership cases to be found in other common law jurisdictions, and explains how these cases impact upon Irish law.

Key Irish cases covered include McAleenan v AIG, Harris v Quigley and Cronin v Kehoe. It also includes analysis of any foreign (particularly English) cases of particular relevance, and covers the Legal Services Regulation Act 2015 and its provisions on partnerships, including limited liability partnerships.

Michael Twomey is Ireland’s leading authority on partnership law. He worked as a solicitor for 25 years before being appointed a Judge of the High Court in 2015. He previously lectured in Trinity College and the Law Society of Ireland.

Maedhbh Clancy qualified as a solicitor in 2001, and is a senior lawyer with Arthur Cox, working as the Professional Support Lawyer for its Finance Group.

The Triangular Constitution

Tom Flynn

A highly original work of constitutional theory arguing that all Member States in the EU have a 'triangular constitution', operating between themselves, the EU and the ECHR. Drawing on a case-study of Ireland, it shows that constitutional pluralism does not give rise to universal constitutional norms, but instead that each triangular constitution operates within its own jurisdictionally specific norms.

Tom Flynn is a Lecturer in the School of Law at the University of Essex.

Irish Conveyancing Law

Fourth Edition

J C W Wylie and Una Woods

This is the essential guide to conveyancing law and practice, which is frequently cited with approval by the Irish courts. The authors have undertaken substantial re-writing and re-structuring to reflect changes which have occurred since the last edition. Some derive from legislation like the Registration of Deeds and Title Act 2006, the Land and Conveyancing Law Reform Acts 2009 and 2013 and the Property Services (Regulation) Act 2011. Others derive from substantial changes in practice and procedure such as the new pre-contract investigation of title system introduced by the Law Society from 1st January 2019. The new Conditions of Sale 2019 Edition and Requisitions on Title 2019 Edition, which implement the new system, are fully analysed and discussed. This book remains the absolutely essential reference work for solicitors and other professionals concerned with conveyancing in Ireland.

Prof JCW Wylie has been the leading author on Irish land and conveyancing law for forty years. He has acted as a consultant for many years to the Law Societies in both parts of Ireland and he led the Department of Justice and Law Reform Commission Joint Project on the reform of land and conveyancing law, which resulted in the enactment of the Land and Conveyancing Law Reform Act 2009. He has been an external examiner for Irish universities and the King's Inns for many years and a consultant to A&L Goodbody since 1993. Una Woods is currently a lecturer in the University of Limerick, specialising in Land Law.

A Guide to Expert Witness Evidence
NEW TITLE
Mark Tottenham and Emma Prendergast with Ciaran Joyce and Hugh Madden
Provides an introduction to expert witness evidence, aimed at both lawyers and potential expert witnesses. Topics covered include an overview of the Irish legal system both civil and criminal, different types of quasi-judicial tribunals and arbitration/mediation procedures. It explains who can be an expert witness, the scope of evidence given by expert witnesses and the function and duty of expert witnesses. A key part of the book examines the role of the expert in a pre trial context, including report writing, as well as the expert giving evidence in court. It then examines experts in various contexts, e.g. in the commercial court, in a criminal trial, medical experts, engineering experts, in a local authority context and family law. Mark Tottenham and Emma Prendergast are barristers-at-law. Ciaran Joyce is a knowledge lawyer with A&L Goodbody. Hugh Madden is an artist, formerly a barrister. 9781847667175

National Security Law in Ireland

Eoin O’Connor
Consultant Editor: Michael Lynn SC

Addresses national security law in the context of the criminal trial, examining the use of informers, surveillance and interception, and national security law issues outside the criminal context.

National security law is becoming increasingly relevant in the fields of immigration and asylum law and media law in that it can affect newspapers’ ability to publish stories which concern national security issues. Therefore this book, as well as dealing with criminal law, also covers a broader panoply of subjects of interest to lawyers and the layperson.

Eoin O’Connor was called to the Bar of Ireland in 2008 and has been practising since. He has completed a PhD in Trinity College Dublin.

The Special Criminal Court: Practice and Procedure

Alice Harrison
Consultant Editors: Úna Ni Raifeartaigh and Michael Bowman SC

Compiles procedural and evidential rules in a coherent and accessible way together with a comprehensive analysis of the offences typically tried before the Special Criminal Court. In light of the fact that the Special Criminal Court is a creature of statute, the procedural rules are extraordinarily specific. This title sets these out in a comprehensive and articulate manner so that they are accessible and useful to the practitioner. A relevant body of case law that has built up over the years is examined including decisions of the Irish courts as well as relevant decisions of the European Court of Human Rights.

Alice Harrison BL is a barrister who lectures in Maynooth University in criminal law, Úna Ni Raifeartaigh is a High Court Judge and Michael Bowman is an eminent Senior Counsel.

Disciplinary Procedures in the Statutory Professions NEW EDITION
Second Edition
Simon Mills SC and Colm Scott-Byrne
Various disciplinary and regulatory bodies have different rules, powers and procedures, even while sharing a basic legal framework. This book allows a practitioner who is appearing before such a body to properly prepare their case by setting out what powers the body has, what evidence it can hear, the form the procedure will take, whether they can call witnesses, what sanctions it can impose, etc.
This book was the first title to consider the specific question of the regulation of statutory professions in Ireland. It is written by barristers experienced in the field of professional regulatory law and it deals with both the principles and practice of statutory professional conduct proceedings.
The book considers professions that are under statutory regulation, including architects, surveyors, teachers, pharmacists, health and social care professionals and accountants.
Simon Mills is a Senior Counsel specialising in medical law and in particular clinical negligence, professional regulatory law, mental capacity and coroners’ inquests. Colm Scott-Byrne BBL (NUI), LLM (Dub). is a practising barrister who specialises in professional regulation and medical law.

EVIDENCE

Evidence in Criminal Trials
Fourth Edition
Liz Heffernan

Covers the vast majority of issues addressed in law school courses on evidence. It is the only evidence title that deals with international developments regarding criminal evidence and electronic disclosure and is written by one of the leading academics in this field.

Evidence comprises the rules which govern the presentation of facts and proof in proceedings before a court. It is a subject of enormous importance to both practitioners and students. Since the first edition was published, important judicial decisions have been handed down in each of the areas covered in the book. The second edition deals with these decisions and with legislative changes. It also contains a new chapter on European criminal evidence.

Liz Heffernan has been teaching evidence in Irish law schools since 2001 and has published nationally and internationally on the subject.

Practice and Procedure in the Superior Courts
NEW EDITION
Third Edition
Benedict Ó Floinn SC
Comprises the fully consolidated and updated text of the rules that govern procedure in the Supreme Court, Court of Criminal Appeal, High Court and Central Criminal Court in Ireland. It is essential for any litigation lawyer whose practice is based in any or all of those courts. These rules are set out in SI 15/1986, which has been extensively amended over the past 33 years.
Each rule is accompanied by user-friendly commentaries and details of the reported and unreported decisions of the courts in both Ireland and Northern Ireland, practice directions and legislative references. Detailed appendices set out the relevant forms, deeds etc. that are regularly required in Superior Court proceedings.
Benedict Ó Floinn is one of Ireland's leading barristers and has been practising at the Irish Bar for over 20 years.

Mental Health Law

Legal Capacity: A Guide to Irish Capacity Law and Assisted Decision-Making

Anna Hynes

This book examines current Irish capacity law in detail; it covers recent developments in the area, including the ratification of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities by Ireland in 2018.

The second part of the book covers the Assisted Decision-Making (Capacity) Act 2015. It sets out the background to the Act with a description of the EU cases and conventions that shaped it and provides a guide to the legislation, including comparative analysis and relevant case law from other jurisdictions, to guide practitioners as to how the legislation is likely to be applied in practice.

Anna Hynes is a partner with St John Solicitors, Dublin.

Energy Law

Diane Balding

Within a legal context and having regard to climate change and security of energy supply, this book defines energy, identifies its sources and examines its associated networks and categorises the sources of energy law in Ireland.

It also scrutinises the legal aspects of the constituent elements of energy projects both renewable and non-renewable. In addition, the book explores all issues that are peripheral but necessary adjuncts to an energy project for example, economics of energy, competition law and dispute resolution.

Diane Balding is a solicitor.

Residential Tenancies

Laura Farrell
Consultant Editor: JCW Wylie

Provides a clear and comprehensive statement of the law regulating private and social leases of dwellings in Ireland and explains the dispute resolution mechanisms of the Residential Tenancies Board, appeals, and enforcement.

It considers the difficult issue of Rental Accommodation Scheme tenancies, which although envisioned by the Housing (Miscellaneous Provisions) Act 2009, and entered into regularly by public authorities, are not yet on a firm statutory footing as the legislative provisions have not all been commenced.

It provides a comprehensive appendix, which includes a sample residential letting agreement, a range of sample notices of termination (to deal with all permitted reasons for termination), and a sample rent review notice review.

Laura Farrell is a practising barrister at the Bar in Dublin, specialising in property law. Prof JCW Wylie has been the leading author on Irish land and conveyancing law for forty years.
