Catalogue 2020/21

Online | Print
Welcome to the 2020/21 Irish Law and Tax Catalogue.

2020 will be a very exciting year for us here in Bloomsbury Professional in Dublin. We will be publishing the 6th edition of the prestigious Irish Land Law by JCW Wylie, which follows the publication last year of the 4th edition of Irish Conveyancing Law by Professor Wylie and Una Woods. This brings our property law stable right up to date and we know that these books will be of immense value to many lawyers across Ireland this year.

We are also delighted to announce that we will be publishing the long-awaited Charleton and McDermott on Criminal Law and Evidence later this year. We were terribly sorry to hear about the passing of our brilliant author, Paul McDermott SC and this book, which he worked on tirelessly, will be part of his legacy.

Already published this year we have O’Doherty, Internet Law, and the much-vaunted The Taxation of Companies, formerly written by Michael Feeney, has been taken over by Tom Maguire. This year’s edition covers hybrids and transfer pricing, and has a glowing foreword written by the Minister of Finance.

We have also published a new title, Contract Law for Students, written by our own Eoin Molloy. We would hope that this will be the go-to book for all students studying for their FE1s. Also for students, we are bringing out new editions of Fennell, The Law of Evidence in Ireland and Byrne and McCutcheon on the Irish Legal System.

In addition, we are publishing new editions of the following well established and highly regarded titles: Andrews, Woods on Liquor Licensing Law; Johnston, Banking and Security Law in Ireland, and Binchy, Irish Conflicts of Law.

We now have a range of tax products that are available only in online format. They include: Tax Acts, VAT Acts, Capital Acquisitions Tax Guide, Capital Gains Tax Guide and the Employer’s PAYE/PRSI Guide. Mark Tottenham BL has also updated the Irish Tax Reports to 2019.

Please don’t hesitate to contact any of the Bloomsbury Professional team in our Dublin office, if you would like more information on any of our titles. We would particularly like to hear from you if you have feedback or suggestions about how we can better meet your information needs.

CHARITIES

Law of Charities in Ireland
Oonagh B Breen and Philip Smith
As well as fully outlining the legislation, including detailed coverage of the Charities Act 2009, this handbook considers the life cycle of a charity in Ireland: from its creation and registration to its governance and reporting obligations right through to its relations with other charities, at home or abroad, and the demise or dissolution of a charity. Examining the role of the charity trustee in both corporate and unincorporated charities, it details the key relationships with relevant statutory agencies from the Charities Regulator through to Revenue and the Companies Registration Office. Setting out for the first time the practical issues facing charities operating in Ireland, this handbook is vital for any person concerned with the regulation of charities in this jurisdiction.

Dr Oonagh B Breen is a lecturer at University College Dublin. Philip Smith is a Partner in Arthur Cox Solicitors and is an expert in pensions and charity law.

Companies Act 2014
Lyndon Mac Cann and Thomas B. Courtney
Contains the Companies Act 2014 together with related legislation. The legislation is fully consolidated with inclusive commentary on each section. Companies Act 2014 represents the most significant reform in Irish corporate law in two generations, comprising 25 Parts, 1,448 sections and 17 Schedules. The Act repeals in full some 32 enactments (17 statutes and 15 statutory instruments), restating much of that law into a group structure as well as amending other provisions, and codifying judicial developments in certain areas. The 2014 Act represents the modern statement of the law applicable to the formation of companies, administration and management to their winding-up and dissolution, incorporating the rights and duties of their officers, members and creditors.

Lyndon Mac Cann BA(Mod), M Litt, SC is one of Ireland’s leading company law barristers and Dr Thomas B. Courtney BA, LLB, LLD is Head of the Company Compliance and Governance Practice and a Partner in the Corporate Group of Arthur Cox.

Twomey on Partnership
Second Edition
Michael Twomey
Editor: Maedhbh Clancy
Includes practitioner-focused chapters on disputes between partners, litigation by and against partnerships and a commentary on each of the clauses of a typical partnership agreement. Few areas of law are as similar throughout the common law world as partnership law. This important book analyses not only Irish, English and Scottish partnership cases, but also the rich vein of partnership cases to be found in other common law jurisdictions, and explains how these cases impact upon Irish law.

Key Irish cases covered include McAleenan v AIG, Harris v Quigley and Cronin v Kehoe. It also includes analysis of any foreign (particularly English) cases of particular relevance, and covers the Legal Services Regulation Act 2015 and its provisions on partnerships, including limited liability partnerships.

Michael Twomey is Ireland’s leading authority on partnership law. He worked as a solicitor for 25 years before being appointed a Judge of the High Court in 2015. He previously lectured in Trinity College and the Law Society of Ireland.

Maedhbh Clancy qualified as a solicitor in 2001, and is a senior lawyer with Arthur Cox, working as the Professional Support Lawyer for its Finance Group.

Irish Conveyancing Law
Fourth Edition
J C W Wylie and Una Woods

Frequently cited with approval by the Irish courts, the fourth edition reflects the many changes which have occurred since the last edition. Some derive from legislation like the Registration of Deeds and Title Act 2006, the Land and Conveyancing Law Reform Acts 2009 and 2013 and the Property Services (Regulation) Act 2011. Others derive from substantial changes in practice and procedure such as the new pre-contract investigation of title system introduced by the Law Society from 1st January 2019. The new Conditions of Sale 2019 Edition and Requisitions on Title 2019 Edition, which implement the new system, are fully analysed and discussed. This book remains the absolutely essential reference work for solicitors and other professionals concerned with conveyancing in Ireland.

Prof JCW Wylie has been the leading author on Irish land and conveyancing law for forty years. He has been an external examiner for Irish universities and the King’s Inns for many years and a consultant to A&L Goodbody since 1993. Una Woods is currently a lecturer in the University of Limerick, specialising in Land Law.

A Guide to Expert Witness Evidence
Mark Tottenham and Emma Prendergast with Ciaran Joyce and Hugh Madden
Provides an introduction to expert witness evidence, aimed at both lawyers and potential expert witnesses. Topics covered include an overview of the Irish legal system both civil and criminal, different types of quasi-judicial tribunals and arbitration/mediation procedures. It explains who can be an expert witness, the scope of evidence given by expert witnesses and the function and duty of expert witnesses. A key part of the book examines the role of the expert in a pre-trial context, including report writing, as well as the expert giving evidence in court. It then examines experts in various contexts, e.g. in the commercial court, in a criminal trial, medical experts, engineering experts, in a local authority context and family law.

National Security Law in Ireland
Eoin O’Connor
Consultant Editor: Michael Lynn sc
Addresses national security law in the context of the criminal trial, examining the use of informers, surveillance and interception, and national security law issues outside the criminal context. National security law is becoming increasingly relevant in the fields of immigration and asylum law and media law in that it can affect newspapers’ ability to publish stories which concern national security issues. Therefore this book, as well as dealing with criminal law, also covers a broader panoply of subjects of interest to lawyers and the layperson.

The Special Criminal Court: Practice and Procedure
Alice Harrison
Consultant Editors: Úna Ní Raifeartaigh and Michael Bowman sc
Compiles procedural and evidential rules in a coherent and accessible way together with a comprehensive analysis of the offences typically tried before the Special Criminal Court. In light of the fact that the Special Criminal Court is a creature of statute, the procedural rules are extraordinarily specific. This title sets these out in a comprehensive and articulate manner so that they are accessible and useful to the practitioner. A relevant body of case law that has built up over the years is examined including decisions of the Irish courts as well as relevant decisions of the European Court of Human Rights.

EDUCATION LAW

Glendenning: Education and the Law
Third Edition
Elizabeth-Ann Kirwan
Consultant Editor Dymphna Glendenning
Examines the legal issues surrounding teaching and education, such as tortious liability for injuries to teachers and students, the employment of teachers, school discipline, bullying, freedom of information, and the State’s responsibility for educating children with special educational needs.
Membership of the European Union has also resulted in many changes arising from the principles of free movement, non-discrimination and the common vocational training policy. These developments, as well as the key legislation (including the the Education (Admissions to School) Act 2018 and the Data Protection Act 2018) are examined. It also takes an historical look at the legal aspects of the education system in Ireland, and it traces the distinctive development of the Irish education system but it also looks at the future direction of education in Ireland and at the likely impact of equality law, human rights law and membership of the enlarged European Community on Ireland’s largely denominational education system.

Dr Dymphna Glendenning BA, HDip(Ed), MEd, PhD, Barrister-at-law, Elizabeth-Ann Kirwan BL.

Disciplinary Procedures in the Statutory Professions

Simon Mills SC and Colm Scott-Byrne

Various disciplinary and regulatory bodies have different rules, powers and procedures, even while sharing a basic legal framework. This book allows a practitioner who is appearing before such a body to properly prepare their case by setting out what powers the body has, what evidence it can hear, the form the procedure will take, whether they can call witnesses, what sanctions it can impose, etc.

This book was the first title to consider the specific question of the regulation of statutory professions in Ireland. It considers professions that are under statutory regulation, including architects, surveyors, teachers, pharmacists, health and social care professionals and accountants.

Simon Mills is a Senior Counsel specialising in medical law and in particular clinical negligence, professional regulatory law, mental capacity and coroners’ inquests. Colm Scott-Byrne BBL (NUI), LLM (Dub). is a practising barrister who specialises in professional regulation and medical law.

EVIDENCE

Evidence in Criminal Trials  NEW
Second Edition
Liz Heffernan

Covers the vast majority of issues addressed in law school courses on evidence. It is the only evidence title that deals with international developments regarding criminal evidence and electronic disclosure and is written by one of the leading academics in this field.

Evidence comprises the rules which govern the presentation of facts and proof in proceedings before a court. It is a subject of enormous importance to both practitioners and students. Since the first edition was published, important judicial decisions have been handed down in each of the areas covered in the book. The second edition deals with these decisions and with legislative changes. It also contains a new chapter on European criminal evidence.

Liz Heffernan has been teaching evidence in Irish law schools since 2001 and has published nationally and internationally on the subject.

A Practical Guide to Medical Negligence Litigation

Michael Boylan

This book examines current Irish capacity law in detail; it covers recent developments in the area, including the ratification of the Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities by Ireland in 2018. The second part of the book covers the Assisted Decision-Making (Capacity) Act 2015. It sets out the background to the Act with a description of the EU cases and conventions that shaped it and provides a guide to the legislation, including comparative analysis and relevant case law from other jurisdictions, to guide practitioners as to how the legislation is likely to be applied in practice.

Aíne Hynes is a partner with St Johns Solicitors, Dublin.

Summary Judgment in Ireland: Principles and Defences
Second Edition
Pat J Barrett
This book enables practitioners to research the current principles guiding the court’s jurisdiction in this area and to identify defences which they might employ to defeat applications for summary judgment. It looks into the compatibility of summary judgment procedure with the ECHR: the unfair terms in the Consumer Contract Directive and its impact for summary judgment applications and the enforcement of solicitors’ undertakings in applications for summary judgment.
Pat Barrett graduated from University College Cork in 2006 with a Bachelor of Civil Law degree and Law and Irish and was called to the Bar in 2007. He is currently practising on the Cork circuit, specialising in commercial, property and employment law.

PROBATE AND SUCCESSION LAW

Drafting Trusts and Will Trusts in Northern Ireland

Fourth Edition

James Kessler and Sheena Grattan

Supplies the tools and instructions to help build watertight trusts and will trusts in Northern Ireland, allowing the drafting of accurate and legally binding trusts and will trusts with the minimum of research. The main legislative change since the last edition published in 2013 has been the introduction of the complex residence nil rate band which will be covered comprehensively. Practitioners who have little involvement with inter vivos trusts will find this book invaluable for the will drafting chapters. Another important legislative change since the publication of the last edition is the Charities Act (NI) 2013 which clarified the public benefit test and which is also covered in detail in this new edition.

James Kessler QC practices in tax and has practised as a barrister since 1985 and was appointed QC in 2003. Sheena Grattan is a qualified barrister and a lecturer in law.

Succession Act 1965 and Related Legislation: A Commentary

Fifth Edition

Brian Spierin

Contains much more than just precedents, this book will prove invaluable to all legal practitioners specialising in probate and succession law. Most chapters cover a constituent part of a will, and include a commentary which summarises the applicable law and gives pointers and advice on matters to be taken into consideration and pitfalls to be avoided. The precedents are drafted in a straightforward style and annotated where necessary. Full appendices are included containing the relevant statutory provisions.

Included in the third edition:
• Impact of the Divorce Reform
• Wills that deal with digital assets.

Cases:
H v H [2015] IESC 7
Looser v Earls [2016] IECA 63
Corrigan v Corrigan IESC [2016]
Nevin v Nevin [2013] IEHC 513
The still relevant Cawley and others v Lillis [2011] IEHC 513 and [2012] IR 281

Brian E Spierin SC is a leading barrister in this area of law.

PROPERTY AND LAND LAW

Adverse Possession in Ireland

Una Woods

This book focuses on the proofs, ie animus possidendi and acts of possession by the squatter and the implications of squatting on leasehold land, registered land, co-owned land, land subject to a trust, a future interest or a mortgage. It examines the use of the doctrine in the context of unadministered estates or informal transactions, and also includes a review of recent proposals for reform and the potential impact of these reforms.

Una Woods is currently a lecturer in the University of Limerick, specialising in Land Law.

GENERAL TAX

Capital Tax Acts 2020
Michael Buckley
Now in its twenty-eighth edition, this indispensable guide to capital taxes provides the reader with annotated legislation in the areas of stamp duty, CAT and local property tax. All changes brought by the Finance Act 2019 are included, together with any other relevant legislation since the previous edition. All relevant information issued by the Revenue Commissioners is also included. Each section of the book takes the area of tax it deals with and runs through each Act and Statutory Instrument which is relevant to it, with notes which detail definitions, amendments, cross-references, e-Briefings, Tax Briefings, former enactments and relevant case law.

INCOME TAX

Irish Income Tax 2020

Tom Maguire

Provides a complete analysis of the principles and practice of income tax in the Republic of Ireland. The system and rules contained in the Tax Acts are complex and often cause difficulties of interpretation, even for those very familiar with them. With this in mind they have been laid out clearly as possible, using straightforward language. For some of the most important sections of the book the explanation of a technical point is an example followed by placing the point in the context of a scenario or narrative. A great effort has been made to take on the more difficult and complex issues and to provide solutions.

This new edition is based on Finance Act 2019.

Tom Maguire is a partner in Deloitte, leading the firm’s Tax Policy and Technical Services team.
